

FUNDAMENTALLY STRONG STOCKS ARE POISED FOR SOME GREAT RETURNS IN 2016

A consequence of the current market correction is that fundamentally strong stocks have started trading at very attractive valuations. We expect that once the dust settles and the volatility is back to normal, these stocks would be well poised for some great returns. Below is the list of stocks that are on our radar:

BAJAJ CORP LTD: Investors with a short-term to medium term perspective can consider buying the shares of Bajaj Corp. At the time of writing the stock has is trading at Rs.407.25 at BSE. Stock price is down by ~7.02% from its one month high of Rs.437 and down by ~6.14% from its price on 6th Jan 2016 which was Rs.433.

LARSEN & TOUBRO LTD: Investors with a short-term to medium term perspective can consider buying the shares of L&T. At the time of writing the stock has is trading at Rs.1186.85 at BSE. Stock price is down by ~12.34% from its one month high of Rs.1352 and down by ~5.69% from its price on 6th Jan 2016 which was Rs.1185.

STATE BANK OF INDIA: Investors with a short-term to medium term perspective can consider buying the shares of SBI. At the time of writing the stock has is trading at Rs.209.95 at BSE. Stock price is down by ~13.60% from its one month high of Rs.243 and down by ~3.69% from its price on 6th Jan 2016 which was Rs.218.

AXIS BANK LTD: Investors with a short-term to medium term perspective can consider buying the shares of Axis bank. At the time of writing the stock has is trading at Rs.411.55 at BSE. Stock price is down by ~11.55% from its one month high of Rs.465 and down by ~5.68% from its price on 6th Jan 2016 which was Rs.436.

INDUSIND BANK LTD: Investors with a short-term to medium term perspective can consider buying the shares of Indusind bank. At the time of writing the stock has is trading at Rs.936.9 at BSE. Stock price is down by ~3.71% from its one month high of Rs.973 and down by ~1.59% from its price on 6th Jan 2016 which was Rs.952.

COLGATE-PALMOLIVE (INDIA) LTD: Investors with a short-term to medium term perspective can consider buying the shares of Colgate Palmolive. At the time of writing the stock has is trading at Rs.923 at BSE. Stock price is down by ~8.25% from its one month high of Rs.1006 and down by ~5.43% from its price on 6th Jan 2016 which was Rs.976.

TVS MOTOR COMPANY LTD: Investors with a short-term to medium term perspective can consider buying the shares of TVS Motor. At the time of writing the stock has is trading at Rs.280.65 at BSE. Stock price is down by ~5.17% from its one month high of Rs.295.95 and down by ~4.48% from its price on 6th Jan 2016 which was Rs.280.65.